Dedication

We are proud to dedicate the 1965 KEY to Mr. Kenneth (Moco) Mercer. For twenty years, 1939 to 1959, Moco served as Director of Athletics here at the University. At present he is head wrestling and track coach.

He attended Simpson College where he earned 17 letters in sports and his B.A. degree in sociology. He earned his M.A. degree, also in sociology, at Beloit College. He has served as a member of both the NAIA Track Advisory Board and the Pop Warner National Football Committee.

In his years of coaching, he has led the "Blue and White" to a record of 104 wins, 56 losses, and 6 ties on the football field and a record of 178 wins and 37 losses on the basketball court. One of his greatest honors came when he was installed in the National Intercollegiate Athletic Association Hall of Fame in 1960. He was honored again in 1964 when he was named to the Iowa Sports Hall of Fame.

Moco has done more for the University than just give it outstanding teams. He has given a winning spirit to all the University's athletes. Even more important than this winning spirit which surrounds Moco Mercer and his team is the relationship that he has developed with his players. Moco is a friend to which his players can turn to for help on and off the playing field. The editors of 1965 KEY salute a man who has earned more than football honors.

The University

Just as we have many faces we convey to those around us, so does an institution. Because it is sustained by life, and people involved in life; it can be said to have certain human characteristics. Our institution, the University of Dubuque, in its character is a mirror of the many faces which are a part of it.

The variety of faces are essentially, the elements which combine to make this an institution of higher learning, a college. The basic components are those who lead, those who instruct and those who learn. Those who participate have the opportunity for representation in clubs, and they can take part in the activity of the campus. Also, sportsmanship is learned through encounters with fellow students. This all occurs as we work toward our main accomplishment—to learn.

Junior Class

The Junior year is a busy year from fall through spring. The increased participation in activities made us feel even more a part of the college. As we rise high to the top of the ladder, we began to look upon the University as our Alma Mater and become more interested in its improvement. We realized even more that soon we will be making our dreams of the future, realities; and we began working even harder to prepare ourselves for our future roles.

Sophomore Class

We have become better acquainted with the school and each other. We have found our places and have begun working to fill them as best we know how. Our challenges are many, but we have evaluated our steps toward conquering them. Happily we climb to the more sophisticated realm of the upperclassman, yet reluctantly we leave the wide-eyed world of the Freshman.

Freshman Class

FRESHMAN SENATORS: Charles Jackson, Carl Bosteels, Bill Hector, President—Tam Gerdes.

We are here and ready to begin our college career. We have long looked forward to this day, yet it is something a little different than we had expected. During the first several weeks we were dominated by upperclassmen, but as we united we gradually gained our ground. Through participation in the talent show, football games, and other activities we became acquainted with ourselves and upperclassmen. We also became acquainted with our professors and new and deeper methods of study.

Each class is represented by four members, with the president and vice-president being elected from the entire student body. Student Senate is affiliated with the National Student Association.

This branch of the judicial system consists of four justices and a Chief Justice. The decisions of the High Court are final.

Election to Who's Who Among Students in American Colleges and Universities is one of the highest honors which a college student can receive. Awards are made by the votes of the faculty, the Student Senate, and the Student Personnel Service Committee on the basis of the student's excellence of academic performance and service to the school as a whole. This year there were three juniors and eight seniors elected to this honor.

Beta Alpha Chi

The Beta Alpha Chi chapter at the University assists students entering the field of business. Their emphasis is placed upon helping the student secure employment (job placement), and in helping them with the various aspects of resume writing, and also, coaching them in the successful manners of being interviewed by prospective employers. Field trips were taken to help underclassmen decide which field interested him so that he could adjust his courses accordingly.

Activities include talks by outside speakers designed to survey various industries, and show business trends. This is done in an effort to help the business student make up his mind about his future vacation.

The purpose of the D Club is to centralize athletic activities through an organization of varsity lettermen. An important contribution of the club is sponsorship of many of the Homecoming activities: nomination of the queen and the court candidates, sponsorship of the Homecoming dance, and sale of Homecoming mums. Other activities of the club during the past year included a closed party, a car wash, and a D Club supper.

It is the responsibility of the D Club to compile programs for sale at football and basketball games; members of the D Club also serve as ushers and gatekeepers at athletic events. The club works in many ways to promote interest in the sports program of the University.

Young Republicans

Judith Hanson, Secretary-Treasurer; Sue Evans, President; Charles DeFarkas; Judy Hontleman.

The Young Republicans is a campus political organization which provides students with an opportunity to find political expression and recognition. The club attempts to train students to work effectively in politics. This year club members helped at the local campaign headquarters on election day. It strives to better inform the campus and the community on political issues and policies of the Republican party.

This year, the YR's sponsored a student committee to welcome Vice-presidential candidate Miller to Dubuque, attended a Goldwater rally in Davenport, Iowa, as well as other political campaign rallies, supported Political Emphasis Week, participated in the mock election and attended the state and regional meetings of Youth and Citizens for Goldwater.

Young Democrats

The Young Democrats is a campus political organization which helps acquaint the campus and the community with the divergent views in political campaigns. It is affiliated with the Iowa State College Democratic Federation. The club hopes to learn and perpetuate the ideas of the Democratic party for the benefit of the students and general public as well as for its members. This year, the YD's sponsored student committees to welcome incumbent Iowa Governor Harold E. Hughes, Vice-Presidential candidate Hubert H. Humphrey, candidate for Iowa Congressman John C. Culver, and Peace Corps Head Sergeant Shriver when they appeared in Dubuque. The organization supported Political Emphasis Week, attended political campaign rallies, and participated in mock election. The Dubuque Civic Symphony Orchestra, directed by Dr. Parvis Mahmoud, associate professor of music and himself an accomplished violinist, is a group consisting of qualified and interested Dubuque community citizens and University students.

The orchestra performs a large repertoire of standard compositions; a regular series of concerts with guest soloists is conducted yearly in the interest of enriching the cultural life of the Dubuque area. Other appearances are also made in the community and on-campus.

The University of Dubuque Concert Choir directed by Mr. Jack Boyd, Instructor in Music, appeared at school functions and in numerous concerts. The members of the choir stand in alternate positions rather than in four sections because a richer blend and superior tone can thus be produced, also providing the singers with a greater challenge.

The choir traveled east on its annual extended tour during semester break, presenting concerts at churches and schools enroute. Small tours were also included in the choir's activities, one of which was to Green Bay and Milwaukee, Wisconsin. The choir also gave a concert on American classics during the Week of Classics and another home concert before going on the extended tour.

Choir tour wasn't that rough, was it?

Concert Band

The University Concert Band, under the direction of Dr. Robert Weidner, professor of music and chairman of the Fine Arts Division, promotes culture and provides a musical background for many of the activities which take place on-campus. At the same time, it affords its student members an opportunity to engage in serious concert performance.

The band has been presented in concert, has played at pep rallies and ball games, and has participated in other activities throughout the year. Highlights this year included a concert performance by the brass and woodwind ensembles during the Week of Classics, a Christmas band concert featuring the ensembles, and the traditional spring concert of band and ensembles.

Music Educators' National Conference

The Dubuque chapter of the Music Educators' National Conference, affiliated with the national organization, attempts to acquaint the students on the University campus with the privileges and responsibilities of the music education profession. Its membership is restricted to students who are scheduled for at least six hours of music courses per semester, but its purpose is campus-wide.

Membership in MENC includes subscription to the group's national journal, which music students and others find of great educational value. The University chapter meets every third Thursday of the month and promotes concert participation and attendance.

Members cooperated with the production of a play second semester. New members were initiated in the spring.

Football

The University of Dubuque and Platteville battled to a 0-0 stalemate in their opening game of the 1964 football season. Statistically Dubuque's offense was impressive, but the Pioneers held each time the Spartans penetrated the goal zone. Dubuque's defense allowed Platteville only one down and total of 54 yards gained.

At Wartburg, in their opening Iowa Conference game, the Spartan offense opened wide its potential. Bacon's passing was sharp and Yokos led the running attack by returning a punt 73 yards. Again the defense unit proved their ruggedness by blocking a punt, scoring, and holding the Knights to less than 100 yards gained.

The Statesmen of William Penn were the first foe of the season to appear at Chalmers Field. After a rugged 7-7 first half the home crowd saw a fine combined effort by the Spartan offensive and defensive unit. A wind and drizzle kept both teams attacks on the ground as the hard rushing defense which blocked one punt kept William Penn in trouble virtually the whole second half.

Defending chops, Luther, handed the University of Dubuque its first loss of the season. Two pass interceptions and two fumbles by Dubuque were capitalized by Luther to hold offensive drives by the Spartans and then to score three touchdowns. The powerful Luther offense riddled the usually tough defense of the Spartans.

The Redmen of Simpson brought a staunch defense and a fired-up offense to Dubuque's Homecoming. Yokos provided the thrills by returning a kick-off from Simpson 85 yards in the first quarter and then sprinting 76 yards from the line of scrimmage in the third quarter. Still Simpson's over all effort was too much for the Spartans.

At Central College, the Spartans fought courageously but were held by a stubborn Dutchmen defense from penetrating beyond the Central 37 yard line.

The Spartans took their fourth straight loss from Buena Vista. Dubuque scored after a first quarter fumble by the Beavers inside their 20 yard line. For the remainder of the game a heads-up defense that intercepted Dubuque passes and recovered Spartan fumbles, stopped the host team cold.

The Spartan defense ended Iowa Wesleyan's three game winning streak, grabbed four passes, and recovered the loose pigskin four times. The offensive unit made good the hard work that its complementary unit did and scored leisurely for 39-2 triumph.

Upper Iowa University earned a share of the Iowa Conference football championship by overpowering the Dubuque gridgers, 42-0. Dubuque moved the ball past midfield twice against the iron defense of the Peacocks. This final loss gave the Spartan football team a 3-5-1 record for the season.

Ga Spartans, Ga Fight Win.

These are the girls who lead the cheering and urge our University teams on to Victory. They are selected each year during the spring by representatives from the faculty and presidents of students organizations.

Their responsibilities start in the fall with New Student Days during which they begin to build school spirit among the new students. They are present at every football and basketball game through the year to lead the cheering section. Their captain this year is Bobbie Hollan.

There were infarmol maments, such os donces and reloxing in the Union, when the students had o chance ta become better ocquainted.

The highlight of the NSD comes on Saturday night, when the new students present o voriety show. Much wark and creotive talents go together to praduce this first contribution ta the Univer-sity by the new students.

Much credit for the success af New Student Doze goes ta Pom Allderdice and Rick Vaugh, as chairmen of NSD. Also the directors of the tolent shaw, Dave Reese and Morcio McCartney, are ta be ocknowledged for their fine production.

Homecoming Queen
Kathy Charlton

Homecoming 1964 got off to an early start on Friday, October 9. As classes let out at 12:15 a snake dance was formed which twisted its way to McCormick Gym. After an enthusiastic pep rally in the gym, complete with skits, students fortified themselves with lunch in the Commons. The afternoon activities ended with the freshmen straining to victory over the sophomores in the traditional tug-of-war.

Friday evening saw Queen Kathy Charlton crowned and her court presented. The students ended the day at the Senate sponsored TGIF dance in the union.

After alumni registration Saturday morning, alumni and students watched the parade down town. Students went all out this year with more floats than ever before. They were all take offs on T.V. commercials, in keeping with the theme "Spartan Station Break". Student organizations decorated the campus buildings with elaborate "commercials" and the Public Relations office put out its version of T.V. Guide and its UD Guide to Homecoming activities.

After lunch, with a picnic on the quadrangle for the alumni, pre-game activities began at Chalmers field. Queen Kathy and her court were presented and first place trophies were awarded to the Phi Omicron float and the bookstore dorm decorations.

Although the score of the game was disappointing, half-time was highlighted by the introduction of the captain of the 1914 football team, Dr. Abbo Abben.

Following the game, students and alumni renewed acquaintances at sorority and fraternity teas, a coffee in Aitchison Hall, and the Alumni Awards dinner.

Saturday evening was the high point of the weekend as students and alumni whirled to the music of the Blazers at the D-Club sponsored Homecoming Dance.

Politics, Fall 1964

The year 1964 was an election year, and the students of the University were involved with political campaigning on the campus and in the city of Dubuque. Presidential candidates held rallies in Dubuque on their whistle-stop campaign trips through the nation. Many University students were present for these rallies to give support for their party's candidates and to hear party platforms.

A mock poll election on campus gave an indication to the college community, which way the vote might go in November. It was an exciting contest to have a part in, and the University students certainly had an active part.

Week of Classics

Lady Macbeth rubs blood spot.

Ahl ond to you my friend.

November 15-22, the Fine Arts Department presented the "Week of Classics". The week opened with a Symposium featuring Henri Honegger, Swiss cello soloist, and Edmund R. Demers, Dubuque artists, and members of Clark College. Mr. Honegger has appeared as soloist with the best orchestras of Europe, Africa, and South America. The next evening he presented, unaccompanied, cello suites by Bach. A color film of the Ballet of Romeo and Juliet was shown; it starred the Corps de Ballet and Orchestra of the Bolshai Theater.

A reminiscent audience listened attentively to the University's Concert Choir's performance of "The Forgotten Music of America". The Presentation included two centuries of American choral music directed by Jack A. Boyd, Instructor in Music, and several instrumental numbers directed by Robert W. Weidner, Professor of Music.

The highlight of the week was the Shakespeare Festival. Under the production and direction of the Assistant Professor of Speech and Drama, Richard A. Robinson, University students presented several Shakespearian sonnets and scenes from seven of his best known plays.

Honorary Rector

Installation as Honorary Rector.

Dinner
Speech.

Last year the practice of choosing an honorary rector for the University was reinstated from a tradition begun in 1940. At 8:00 P.M., February 24, 1965, Dr. Walter Judd, renowned missionary, doctor and congressman from Minnesota, was installed as the eleventh person to be named honorary rector for the University of Dubuque.

Born in Pising City, Nebraska, Dr. Judd's past accomplishments include Phi Delta Kappa at the University of Nebraska, practicing physician and surgeon in Minnesota, medical missionary in China, and renowned lecturer just prior to World War II.

He was a prominent member of the House of Representatives from 1942-1963, during which time he either authored or sponsored programs which later became known as the World Health Organization, International Children's Emergency Fund, SEATO, and the Peace Corps. In 1950 and 1958 he was delegated to the World Health Organization Assembly and in 1957 was a delegate to the General Assembly of the U.N. Dr. Judd was the key note speaker at the 1960 Republican Convention.

Dr. Judd, who has received honorary doctorate degrees from more than twenty colleges and universities, is presently the Director of Goodwill Industries, Inc. His home is in Washington D.C.

During his visit to our campus, Dr. Judd delivered two addresses, "The Christian College and the Free World," and "Where in the World are We Going?" He attended luncheons, a student forum and held a press conference.

A gift from the Chinese students to Dr. Judd.

Peterson receives honor.

Honored at a noon luncheon in Peter's Commons, January 4, 1965, Clarence Peterson is now in his 50th year of association with the University.

Peterson, who is the head of the Department of Health and Physical Education here, has coached every sport played at the U of D, with impressive success. Peterson's main pride, however, is in his work in the field of health (which he taught for more than 25 years) and physical education.

On January 15, 1915, while still attending high school, he became an instructor at the University, conducting gym classes and coaching football and boys' and girls' basketball.

An inspiring example of healthful living, Peterson currently coaches tennis and teaches physical education classes. The luncheon expressed only a small part of the gratitude to Pete for a life-time of education.

Peterson's 50th Anniversary

An anniversary cake for Peterson's 50 years.

Stringfellow addresses the students in a convocation.

Intense consideration given to each question.

The University was indeed privileged to have William Stringfellow as the featured speaker for "Faith in Life" week. Mr. Stringfellow is a graduate from Harvard Law School and is practicing law in the Harlem section of New York City. In addition, he is an author and outstanding speaker, traveling nation wide to fulfill his speaking engagements.

Mr. Stringfellow, a layman, is considered an authority in the church and its role in the world. His ideas and viewpoints have taken him to many worldwide conferences. They are also evident in the reason why he is in Harlem. He believes that fringe groups are not equally represented and for this, society will suffer; it is equality for all, or none will benefit. These convictions have led him to represent negroes in the south in voter registration and housing.

While with us during the week, Stringfellow stirred our thoughts and attitudes with his talks and his definite stand on religious, social and political issues. During discussion groups, students were appalled at the knowledge and information of this small, but mighty individual. It was indeed a thought provoking experience for all University students.

Faith and Life Week

Each year, according to tradition at the University of Dubuque, the KEY QUEEN is crowned at the Sweetheart Swirl. She reigns for the yearbook during the following year.

This year our Queen Judy was elected by the student body through the process of two elections. The KEY staff nominated ten candidates; an all school election was held to select five candidates. From these five girls, the students then voted for the KEY QUEEN in a second election.

Queen Judy will also represent the University as our candidate for the Drake Relays Queen. Congratulations and best of luck, Queen Judy!

Publishing a yearbook takes a lot of thought, creative and imaginative ideas, patience, cooperation, communication, organization, and plenty of work. This year, the 1965 KEY staff has combined these attributes to make the yearbook a veritable spokesman for our life in the University of Dubuque college community.

To you, the staff, our sincere thanks for the many hours of work, your concern, and cooperation that has made the 1965 KEY what it is.

A personal and special thanks to you John Turner, for your commendable help as Assistant Editor. You have indeed assisted and have been indispensable in every aspect of the work put into the KEY.

To Bill Blum, Business Manager, hearty congratulations for a job well done! Not only did you meet the required advertising quota, and on time, you also exceeded the goals set for your department. Fine job, Bill!

A sincere thank-you from the staff, and especially the editor, to you, Mrs. Seever. You have been of immense help in every phase of the publication of the KEY. We thank-you for fulfilling the position of advisor by being an advisor.

For the heart of the KEY, the photography, we are indebted to the Public Relations Office and the photographic service we received from their photographers: Dove Adams, Dave Bocon, Ivon Wolf and Telegraph Herald photographers, Ed Breen and Jim Shoffer.

We commend our Art Editor, Marilyn Neudeck, for her fine display of talent on the division pages.

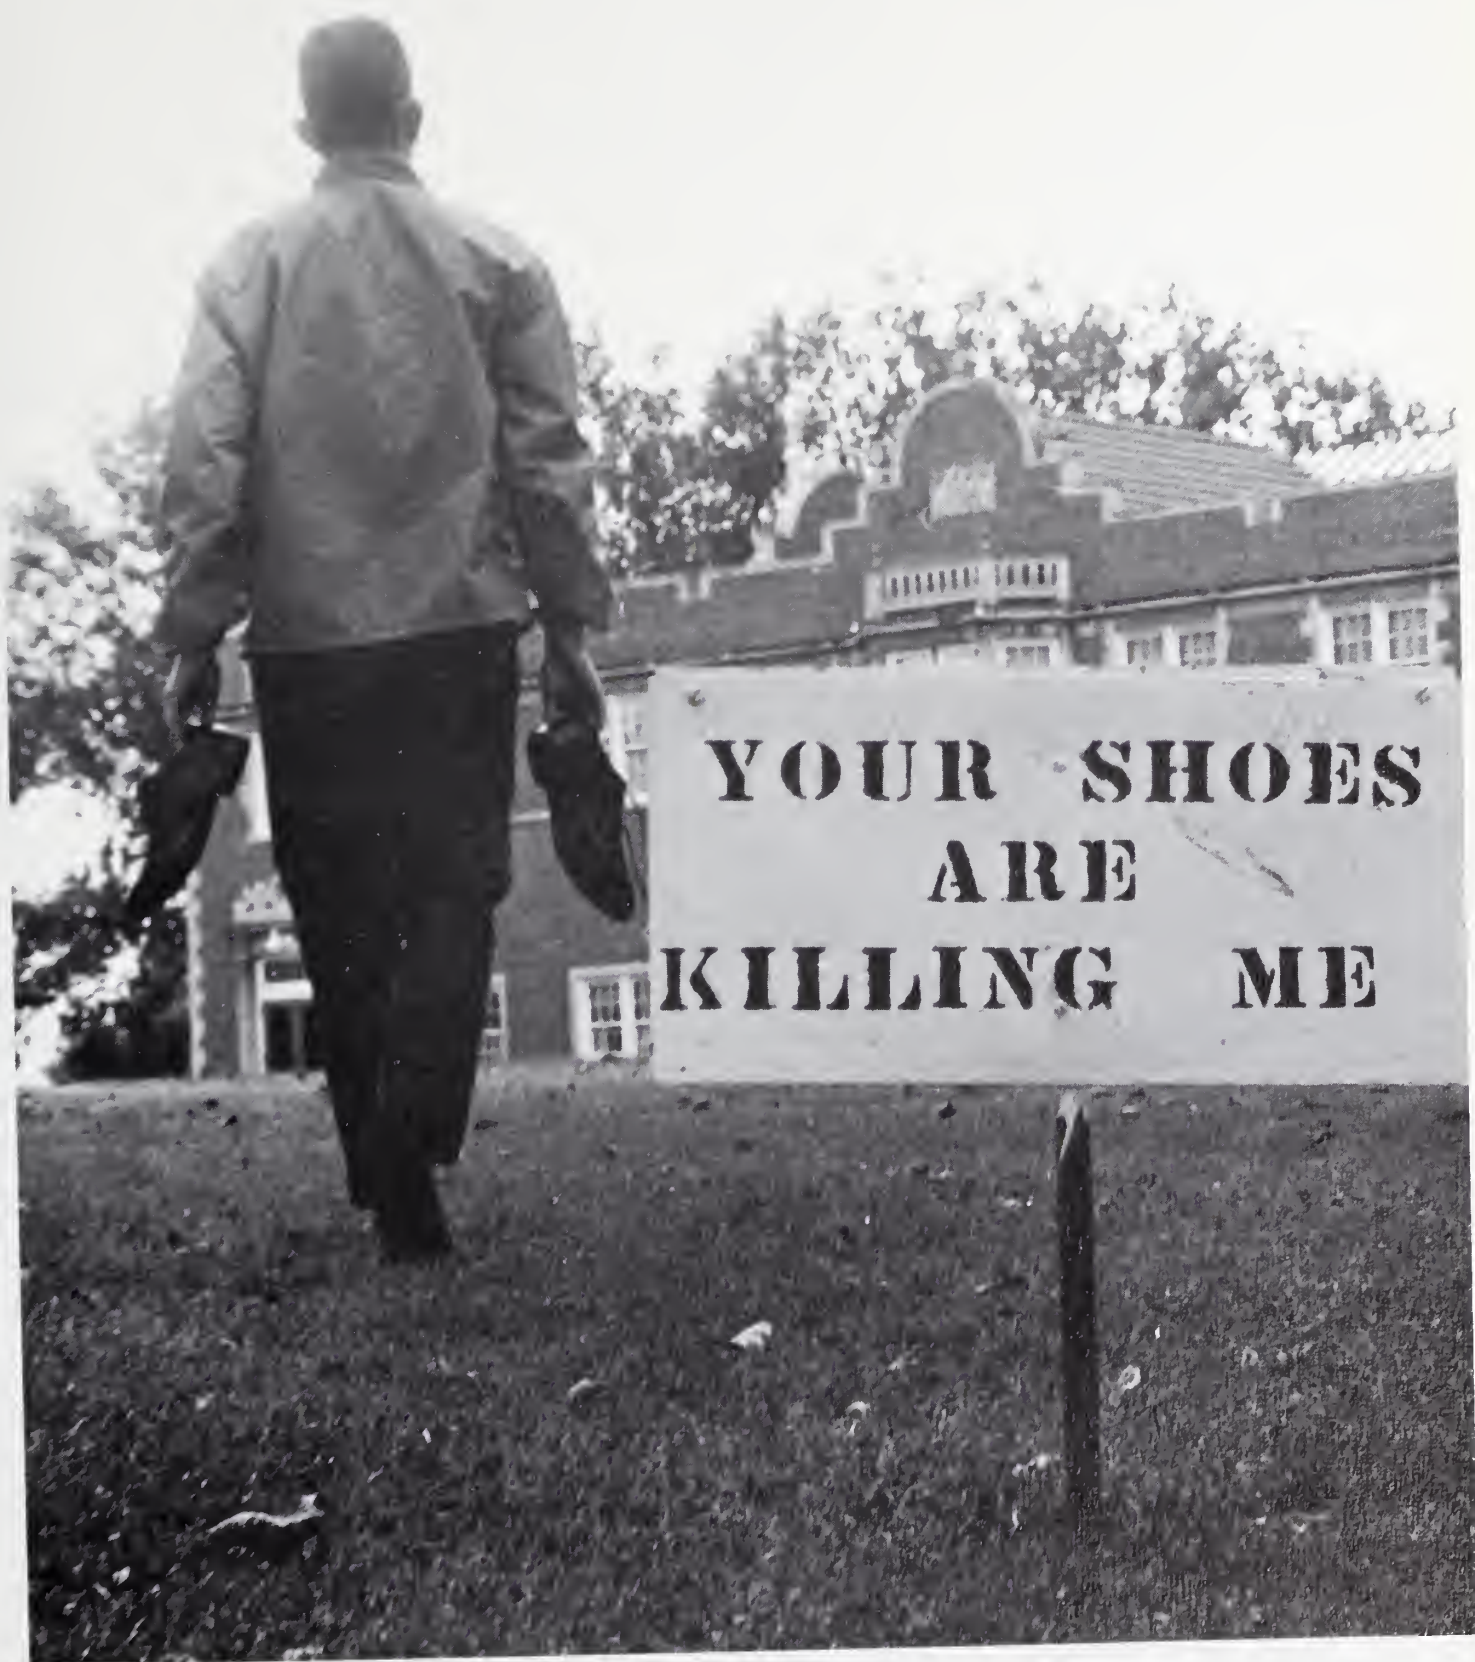

Finally, our grateful appreciation to the publishers of the KEY, the American Yearbook Company, and their representative, Fred Staeker, for your helpful suggestions and cooperation.
